Why New York is less caloric on average: Average US calories = 267.92

New York calories = 265.43

```
Σ+↑
     \Sigma + \downarrow
                                                 Σ-1
      Σ-↑
                      Σ
                                       1. butter+↑
    2. chocolate candy+1
             3. cookies+⊥
                                 4. noodles-1
               5. donuts+1
                  6. cake+↓
                 7. apples-↑
                               8. peanut butter+↑
Food rank
                  9. pasta-↑
                10. bacon+10
                11. tomato-↑
                12. lobster-↑
                              🛮 13. green beans-🎚
       14. brussels sprouts-↑
                15. turkev-↑
                              ■16. ice cream-⊥
                 17. carrot-↑
                    18. rice-↑
                              119. egg-↓
              20. crackers+1
                              21. catfish-⊥
                              22. peaches-↓
```

Per food phrase caloric shift